Grayling 14-year-olds, 'Matt and Mo,' win state amateur canoe championship

By Terry Wright

Serge Corbin may win the Marathon for the fourth consecutive year and the ninth time overall in 1994, but if he looks over his shoulder he just may be surprised at who he sees.

Matthew Ashton and Minard Harwood Jr. have accomplished something at age 14 that few other people have done at any age. On July 18, having paddled together for only one and a half years, "Matt and Mo," became the amateur state canoe racing champions. They were awarded the Michigan Canoe Racing Association's travelling trophy in Mio following their 1st place finish.

Best friends since their toddler years, Matt and Mo have finished 1st in ten out of twelve racing events they have entered.

Both Matt and Mo come from a long line of canoe racers so the AuSable is already in their blood. Matt's great uncle, Jay Stephan, won the AuSable Marathon in 1950, '51, and '52. Another great uncle, Skip Madsen, was the first 15-year-old ever to finish a Marathon. His cousin, Jay Stephan Jr., won the Marathon in 1978, and another cousin, John Baker, won the Marathon in 1976, '78, '80, and '81.

Mo's father, "Big Mo," has paddled in nine Marathons, and his cousin Jim finished 5th in this year's Marathon and has been a top racer for several years.

Matt and Mo were too young to attempt the Marathon this year but they served as feeders for the British team of Peter Jones and Karl Slater as part of their Holiday Inn support team.

The pair hope to travel to Jersey Shores, Pennsylvania, August 12-16, for the U.S. Canoe Association National Canoe and Kayak Marathon Championships, where they will compete in three different races.

Supervisors ask for three changes to CES solid waste amendment

By Terry Wright

All six townships in Crawford County have joined together to protest a proposed amendment to the Crawford County Solid Waste Management Plan.

The amendment, requested by City Environmental Services of Northern Michigan (CES), would add nine more counties to the list of 17 that can dispose of their waste at the CES landfill in Crawford County's Maple Forest Township.

"We, the townships of Crawford County, are writing in protest of the proposed amendment to the Crawford County Solid Waste Management Plan as it is currently written." Thus began a letter, signed by all six township supervisors, to the Northeast Michigan Solid Waste Planning Committee, the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, and City Environmental Services.

The letter requests three changes to the amendment. First is the inclusion of three or four additional primary or backup facilities. "This would protect the townships in the event of an emergency shutdown at the Crawford/Otsego landfill as well as provide the townships with additional locations to dispose of their refuse, if it ever became cost effective to do so," the letter stated.

Secondly, the supervisors are requesting a "guaranteed cost and a reasonable escalation clause." They are asking that disposal costs be directly tied to the rate of inflation or the consumer price index.

Last, the supervisors are requesting the indemnification of each of the townships in the responsibility for "prior, current, or future contamination." Indemnification would mean that the townships could not be held responsible for contamination.

In closing, the letter stated that, without these revisions, the amendment, "will stand very little chance of being approved by two-thirds vote of the townships."

The letter was signed by township supervisors Irene Schultes of Beaver Creek, Fred Schaibly of Lovells, Arlen Huffman of South Branch, Arnold Stancil of Grayling, Mark Kniss of Maple Forest, and Brian Hulbert of Frederic.

Mike Nelson, an attorney for CES parent company City Management Corporation of Detroit, responded to the letter by saying, "We agree with the spirit of the letter, that it is written with the intent of the passing of the amendment being mutually beneficial to both the municipalities and to the residents. At this point we're waiting to see what the Northeast Michigan Solid Waste Planning Committee recommends. Then we will meet with the supervisors."

When asked if tipping fees at the landfill would increase if the amendment is turned down, Nelson replied, "One of the benefits of the amendment is the ability to keep rates in line."

In separate telephone interviews, each supervisor was asked to comment on the following questions concerning their letter.

1. If the three conditions from the letter are met, will you vote in favor of the amendment to the Crawford County solid waste management plan? Supervisors Stancil, Hulbert, Huffman, and Schultes answered "yes." Schaibly answered "no." Kniss chose not to reveal his vote.

2. Have you received any public input from your township constituents? Supervisors Stancil, Hulbert, Huffman, and Schultes answered "no." Schaibly answered, "only at board meetings." Kniss answered, "a few concerns."

3. If the proposed amendment fails, will City Environmental Services increase tipping fees at the landfill? Supervisor Stancil answered, "yes." Hulbert said, "It's inevitable either way." Huffman said, "It's hard to tell." Schultes answered, "They'd have to." Schaibly answered, "I doubt it." Kniss answered, "I don't know."

The Northeast Michigan Solid Waste Planning Committee, acting as the solid waste management agent for Crawford County, has held two public hearings on the amendment. The last hearing was held at the county courthouse in Grayling on Tuesday evening, August 3. At that time, the

Projections show county's population to continue steady growth through 2010

The population of Crawford County has experienced continual growth for many years, and in 1990 was reported to have been 12,260, up by 46% from the census of 1980. Despite the fact that the population of the City of Grayling has remained relatively stable due to land area, and the fact that almost 70% of Crawford County is owned by various government agencies, the growth rate of the entire county has been the greatest of any of the eight counties that comprise northeast Michigan. That trend is expected to continue well into the next century.

The Northeast Michigan Council of Governments (NEMCOG) staff recently completed population projections for each of the region's eight counties for the years 2000 and 2010. This projection assumes that the population changes experienced in the past will continue into the future, but cannot foresee major changes that will impact a county's population more than has been experienced in the past, such as the loss of a major employer.

YOUNG ENTREPRENEUR--Damon Morgan, budding Grayling entrepreneur, quickly identified the Indiana Guard Second Brigade headquarters buildings at Camp Grayling where he did a brisk business buffing the combat boots of senior NCOs and officers. GPA works to enhance local beauty

The Grayling Promotional Association took a different tack this year from its annual spring flower planting.

"We're not just for flowers anymore," said GPA President Linda Albee. "GPA is interested in the appearance of our town, particularly from a visitor's point of view. Our goal is to enhance the natural beauty of Grayling. We are optimistic that this interest will spread throughout the community."

With this broader focus on the community, GPA's beautification committee decided to make over the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce's ten-year-old building and grounds.

"The most visible place to start our long-term beautification was with the chamber building. Over 5,000 visitors stop there each year and get their first impression of our town," said Dr. Carolyn DiPonio, GPA president-elect and chairperson of the beautification committee.

The building was painted light gray with black trim and red doors, complementing the chamber's sign. Black shutters were installed along with black window boxes filled with red geraniums and trailing ivy. The two large pine trees were removed and replaced with young trees. The chamber's sign was edged with a raised bed and planted with chrysanthemums.

Seasonal decorating committee chair Rae Ann Schanz was in charge of planting mums at the West M-72 welcome sign and deweeding an area of downtown. Several bags of weeds, small shrubs and personal items were removed along buildings and sidewalks, to the pleasure of area businesses.

The efforts from both GPA committees were greatly appreciated by the board of directors of the chamber.

"The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce building and grounds have taken on a brighter look, thanks to the beautification committee project sponsored by the Grayling Promotional Association. People from all over the state and country come to Crawford County to enjoy our community, parks, lakes and rivers and the newly painted chamber building, and the beautiful flowers and landscaping are an excellent showcase of our commitment to make our home a better place to live or visit," said Terry Bloomquist, president of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce.

Guided by DiPonio's leadership are committee members Rose Gleason, Sharon Klinger, Sherry Hanson, Gerry VanSickle and Betty Bennett.

Working with or supporting GPA's beautification efforts were the following: Tom's Painting Service, Circle B Tree Service, C. F. Fick and Sons, Don Frisbie, Don Schanz, Mike Gleason and Jinx Parkinson.

The Grayling Promotional Association is a local service organization committed to the improvement of Grayling's quality of life. Funds for projects such as beautification are raised through weekly 50/50 raffles, Glen's tapes, GPA cookbook sales, Pictionary Olympics, and an upcoming mystery dinner theater, slated for October 23.

Mt. Pleasant Vietnam Veterans Memorial overlooked by commission

Fundraising efforts are now underway for the Vietnam Monument to be built west of the state capitol in 1995. You've probably heard the radio ads and seen the TV spots soliciting donations to build this monument at a price tag of $5 million. I don't know how much the media campaign is costing or the expense of coordinating the nationwide design competition, but I do know that $25,000 was handed out for prize money. The $2 million advertising agency which was hired to promote the Lansing monument has delivered plenty of dramatic media commercials statewide and a barrage of news releases from the Vietnam Monument Commission (VMC).

Who wouldn't be impressed to see the commission's board names listed next to their letterhead . . . Gerald Ford, Jimmie Carter, Chrysler's Robert Lutz, and Peter Stroh of Stroh's Brewery. Now there's a group that Vietnam vets can relate to! And who would have thought that the design competition could have been won by an architect from New York? Amazing! I thinking Michigan Vietnam vets are partial to New York architects.

As I look at the VMC news release that talks about the design of the new monument, the fourth paragraphs reads, "Michigan is one of only a handful of states without a memorial honoring its Vietnam veterans." Excuse me! They must have mistook that project at Island Park in Mt. Pleasant for a miniature golf course or something. Someone should inform former Governor James Blanchard, Congressman Bill Schuette, National VVA President Mary Stout and Vietnam veterans from all over the state that they wasted their time in dedicating a non-existent Memorial. Maybe that's why the Vietnam Monument Commission asked us to quit using the name "Michigan Vietnam Veterans Memorial." It doesn't exist! (Note, however, that the project in Lansing is called a Monument and not a Memorial.)

Apparently their House Bill No. 5028 (to build a Vietnam memorial in Lansing) negates our House Bill No. 305 (to recognize the Michigan Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Mt. Pleasant and to install state highway signs). It's a larger number, I guess. I never did understand politics.

We had no commission board made up of CEOs and former Presidents of the U.S. We didn't hire a huge advertising agency to promote our memorial. We neglected to have a nationwide contest with prize money.

The Mt. Pleasant Memorial was designed by a Michigan Vietnam veteran. We didn't hire a firm to construct our memorial. We relied on Vietnam vets and volunteers. O.K., so we went about it all wrong! The nerve of a bunch of Vietnam vets thinking they could build a memorial to honor their own. That's not the way it's done these days.

I do know that with $5 million that same group of Vietnam vets could have not only built a memorial, but several miniature golf courses and put the whole thing under a dome.

I'm anxious to see the new Lansing monument but that won't happen until 1995. After all, this was a seven-year project for the VMC. At that rate the Korean War vets may get a Lansing monument by 2002, WWII vets by 2009, and Desert Storm vets by 2016. Of course that will take another $15 million.

Meanwhile, I'll just continue to visit the Michigan Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Mt. Pleasant because it is a real memorial and does exist for all Michigan Vietnam vets.

WRIGHT ANGLES

by Terry Wright

For three days last month, the residents of Crawford County were in a state of shock over the senseless murder of Terry Barr. To think that a murderer was on the loose among us was a terrifying thought. Not knowing why nor who among us could commit such an act evoked a feeling of vulnerability like I have never felt before.

When the announcement came, on the third day, that a suspect had been arrested and charged with that murder, a huge sigh of relief could be heard throughout the community.

As a reporter covering the crime as closely as I could, I now have the time to sit back and make a few observations that I would like to share.

We are extremely fortunate to have the Michigan State Police Crime Lab located in the City of Grayling. Expert criminal scientists were on the scene within minutes of the discovery of the crime, and I have been told that their expertise and sophisticated equipment played a vital role in leading them to the suspect.

The professionalism of Sheriff

Lovely, Undersheriff Clough, and Detective Lieutenant Parker impressed me very much. Despite what must have been tremendous pressures to bring the case to a quick conclusion, they maintained impeccable standards of conduct. They always treated members of the press, including me, with more courtesy and respect than was probably due.

In the wake of the horror this crime brought to our community, we are all naturally grateful that it did not happen to us, but we must not forget that it did happen to Terry Barr. Now Jane Barr is left behind to pick up the pieces of her life. My heart goes out to her. Her husband is gone and her home and her belongings are in charred ruins. It is now the responsibility of the community to help her in every way possible to get her through this terrible time.

Another thought is that during those terrible three days, rumors flew through the community at an amazing rate. As one person told me, "If you talk to 12 different people, you will get 15 different stories." Those stories would have made wondrous reading in the Avalanche, but from the onset of the investigation, the editors of the Avalanche agreed to maintain the dignity of truth. They agreed that no story at all was better than a story whose facts could not be verified. You heard, saw, and read several versions of the crime elsewhere, but in the Avalanche you only read what had been verified by the investigating agencies. I think that's responsible journalism, especially in an area as sensitive to the public as murder.

As this investigation and trial unfold, I think you can be assured that our standards for truth will continue to be the same as those with which you have become accustomed.

Last, I sincerely hope that I never again have to write another story about murder in our county. It's just not supposed to happen here.

City Manager urges cooperation with private signs

The purpose of this letter is to remind all citizens of a continuing problem that we have in our efforts to beautify the city.

We have not commented on garage sale, family reunions and similar types of signs recently; however, if everyone cooperates we will not have to place undue restrictions on advertising said events. The rules are simple:

1. It is illegal and dangerous to attach any non-authorized signs to utility poles, trees, city sign posts or other public property. Said signs will be removed by the City as they are put up.
2. Free standing signs no larger than two square feet may be placed on stakes on public right of way (ROW) for a temporary period and must be removed each night.
3. Signs advertising events outside of the city limits will be removed if they obstruct traffic or are unsightly due to poor repair, total number or location.
4. Any sign that is placed in the public ROW will be removed upon request of the abutting property owner.

Hopefully with a little cooperation we will be able to have our signs and still have a nice looking city.

Thank you for your help.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN BY PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives . . . also knows where it goes"

The Bad, the Needy and the Spirited

Dear Mr. Ross: I'm so disappointed in you. I read in your column where a 21 year old girl got raped by her stepfather and she didn't report him to the proper authorities. In my opinion, if you are raped, no matter who did it, you should report them to the police. Since she didn't, she must have liked what she got.

Anyway, she had asked you for $650 and you sent her $900. Yet, you turned me down when I asked for $400 to get a cheap car so I can take my 74 year old mother to the doctor once in awhile. I'm sorry for the girl if and I mean "if" she was raped, but old people have to be taken care of, too. Mr. Ross, one of these days you're going to get old and depend on one of your kids to help you. I hope your children never have to lower themselves by asking for help. Only then, will you know how hard it is to beg.

Ms. M. B. ... Winston-Salem, NC

Dear Ms. B.: How can you compare your situation of needing $400, so you can drive your elderly mother to the doctor "once in awhile", to a 21 year old pregnant woman by way of rape, who needed rent money? Is there a loose thread of comparison I've missed? Ah, yes, you both have needs.

In your case, you'd be better off contrasting your need than trying to compare it. The only thing you two share is that you're also receiving a check from me. It's not as much as the one I sent the 21 year old rape victim, but it's a check, nonetheless. May your elderly mother live long enough to witness a change in your attitude—for the better.

Dear Mr. Ross: I'm a single mother of 2. Having just removed myself from a 9 year abusive situation, we've moved into a government subsidized apartment. It's the best move I have ever made for me and my daughter, 7 years old, and son, 16 months.

I work as a teacher's aid at a day care center. I don't make much money ($150 a week) and after bills, rent and food, there's not much left. What I need is your help in getting a kitchen table. Right now my daughter does her homework at the end table in the living room and we eat the same way. I would love for all of us to sit down and eat a meal together at a table without kneeling on the floor.

Ms. M. S. ... Gurnee, IL

Dear Ms. S.: Meal time for families is an important time to share the day's events. Doubly so for a parent in your position. My check will table your request because it's in the mail.

Congratulations for making a positive, push-ahead move in your life. Although you don't have much, you only stand to gain. Best wishes.

Dear Mr. Ross: Four weeks ago I wrote asking that you give me a real estate loan, in order to keep my home because of a balloon payment due. I received no answer from you, so I assume the answer was no.

It makes me mad that you do not have the decency to answer me. What's the problem? Wouldn't my request have given you the same publicity as the requests for dental care, eye glasses and so on? I'm not on relief or state aid. As long as I can work I'll earn my own way, which is more than I can say about most of the people you help. And, if I'm going to lose my home, I'll go down fighting. Thank you again for reinforcing the knowledge that nothing in this world is free and if you're going to get anywhere, it's by yourself, because no one really gives a D---!

J. M. ... Springfield, MO

Dear J. M.: That's the spirit! "If that darn old stingy clogger Ross won't help me—I'll get it done without him!"

Make my day—write again and tell me how you were able to obtain the financing which saved your home. I'm betting the farm on your resourcefulness.

Write Percy Ross, P.O. Box 39000-B, Minneapolis, MN 55439. Include your phone number and name of this publication. All letters are read. Only a few are answered in this column; others may be acknowledged privately.

Lawmakers: 'We're here to help'

IF THE AVERAGE Michigan citizen is a bit confused, who can find fault.

The legislature did it.

After years of complaining about property taxes, the state's lawmakers finally did something about them. But what a solution!

Instead of approaching the problem reasonably and sanely, Michigan's lawmakers chopped it off at the roots.

In a flurry of activity and unexpected bipartisan cooperation, the state legislature repealed about $6 billion in local school property taxes — without indicating where any replacement funds would be generated.

Schools quivered and quaked — again, for good reason.

Right now there is no basis for operating funds for schools for the 1994 school year except what the state will provide.

Local property taxes to operate schools are a thing of the past.

HOW ARE SCHOOLS going to open in 1994? Nobody knows. How are they going to be financed in 1994? Nobody knows.

Will the level of support be at least equal to what has been taken away? Nobody knows.

Will things work out all right for all concerned? Nobody knows.

In effect, Michigan lawmakers have told local school districts and families with children in public schools: "Don't worry. We're the Michigan legislature, and we're here to help you."

That ranks right up there in public believability with "The check's in the mail" and one or two other similar claims. People need a lot of convincing.

In fact, doubts about what the legislature would inflict upon the public was one of the big reasons for the loss of Proposal A at the polls in June.

THERE'S SCANT QUESTION

that political maneuvering had a lot to do with what happened to school taxes. The governor's job and all 148 legislative seats are up for election in 1994.

There's also scant question that political maneuvering will have a lot to do with what happens next.

Certainly much of the $6 billion in property tax relief will be replaced in one way or another. It's impossible to take $6 billion completely out of the tax mix in support of governmental activities such as schools without ruining them.

Whether all $6 billion will be replaced directly by the state is not likely.

In the mix of new or higher taxes which the legislature now will be forced to consider could be some sort of local non-property tax options for school districts — perhaps personal income taxes to be approved by local school district voters.

Another good bet is that a portion of the property tax repeal for school operations will be put back into place, in with limits on the amount of property taxes which local districts could levy.

ORIGINAL DISCUSSION of replacement revenues covers the gamut.

Higher taxes on tobacco and alcohol — the so-called "sin taxes" — are a popular target, but would not prove too productive.

A statewide property tax, rather than local property taxes, is another possibility; higher business taxes and higher personal income taxes are other more probable targets.

Higher sales taxes would require statewide approval by voters; extending the sales tax to new areas — to cover services such as haircuts and attorney fees and video rentals, for example — could be put on by the legislature.

At their core, taxes are simple. There are limited ways they can be raised. Government can tax what you own, what you earn, what you spend, and what you do. That's about all. To scare up $6 billion in new revenue may require all four approaches.

Nothing will be popular universally. The legislature, by its grand gesture of repealing all school operating property taxes, has created quite a mess. Getting out of it won't be easy.

Animal shelter to sponsor obedience class

The Animal Shelter of Crawford County will be conducting another dog obedience class beginning August 15. Classes will be held in the parking lot of Grayling State Bank from 6 to 7 p.m. It is an eight-week course and the cost is $20. You must bring proof of vaccinations to the first class. Linda Sprague will once again be the instructor. Dogs that have been adopted from the animal shelter are free. Proceeds go to the animal shelter.

I'd like to thank everyone who has used the Pounce Tarter Control coupons I've placed in Glens and we've handed out wherever we could. Each redeemed coupon was placed in a drawing for up to one ton of cat food. I received a letter early this week that our shelter won 250 pounds of cat food in the first drawing! That will feed a lot of cats. There are still two more drawings so keep using the coupons and thank you.

I'd like to remind everyone about our walk-a-thon on September 5. Many of you have signed up in an effort to win a free T-shirt. This event made a lot of money for the shelter last year. It gave us a "cushion" for the winter months when money is short.

If any of your readers would like information, to make a pledge, or to sign up, they can phone me at 348-4117. This number rings into my home even when the shelter is closed.

Once again, thank you all for your support of the animal shelter. And for helping the animals who cannot help themselves.

Grayling does great job during Marathon

I would like to take this opportunity to compliment the Chamber of Commerce, the canoe race committee, canoe association, sponsors, and countless others who made the 46th annual AuSable Canoe Marathon such a success.

It makes me very proud and happy to see Grayling lay out a red carpet to the rest of the state and do it so very well. It was an exciting and fun week and weekend.

Events like the AuSable Marathon remind me of the truly great place we live. We have much to be grateful for. Good job Grayling.

County Commissioner Robert Smock

Is the real reason for holiday being forgotten?

I commend Marie Scott on her letter to the editor. Every year I tell myself that it is time for someone to write to the paper. It is one of the best letters I have ever read. It is certainly the only one of its kind. How true her word are!

It is apparent that our city officials have forgotten what the Fourth of July stands for. Are the dollar signs bigger in their eyes than the vision of the Declaration of Independence and what it means? Each year the events of the Fourth of July get smaller. What next — will they stop the fireworks and have them for the River Festival?

Grayling's big week is success, except for small water accident

Grayling's big week is past now — but most of it was a delight with so many things to see and do.

We enjoyed the County Fair being earlier this year, along with the AuSable River Festival.

Friday night we took the kids to the fair, and "Bullmania" (a truly enjoyable event).

We looked forward to the next day when we planned to see the AuSable River Festival parade and then take in the Arts & Crafts in the park.

There were four of us — myself, my wife, my 10-year-old daughter, and my 70-year-old mother-in-law. We found a nice spot on Michigan Ave. — near Chestnut Street corner for viewing and set up our lawn chairs and rug for my daughter to curb-side view. We enjoyed the Michelson Memorial's ice cream social and waited for the parade to start as we ate our pie ala modes. Then came the AuSable River Festival parade — and the major part of it was great as always — then came The Rotary Club!

Apparently on the side lines where we sat — one of the Rotary Club member's wife and son was curb-side where my daughter was at. This guy comes over to the sidelines with a bucketful of water to douse his wife and son — well she jumped up and ran out of harm's way, but the guy proceeds to douse his son — I had already jumped up in front of my wife and mother-in-law to shield them as best I could, because in the process of dousing his son with water — the overflow went all over my daughter, and the rug she was sitting on, and managed to get me all wet from the knees down and my mother-in-law's arm. Needless to say — no one in our group was much in the mood to view anymore so we left the parade to put our chairs and wet rug away in our car.

We still took the walk to the park but with my wet soggy shoes, and daughter all uncomfortable from being soaked in front, and everyone just feeling upset, we didn't stay longer than ten minutes!

In year's past if there was to be a water fight in town it was always announced — time and place — so you had a choice if you wanted to attend, and dress accordingly for it.

All I can say is, that if I had wanted to get wet — I'd have went to the beach. I didn't think I'd be doing it by being a spectator at the AuSable River Festival Parade!

This Week's Fishing Tip

Try casting under pontoon boats and docks for bass in all lakes. Flying lures work well for this. Also rubber worms or tails and jig heads.

For The Best Fishing Hole

West Twin Lake near Lewiston has been good for walleye and some nice perch. Indian Lake for bluegills 12 to 15 feet deep with wax worms or crickets. Early morning and evenings are best.

BITS OF TALK

By Fay Bovee

On June 25, Iris Corr and Jim Stomant flew to Fairbanks, Alaska, where they were met by her son Wayne LaChappelle and his father-in-law, Paul Albert. They drove to Wayne and Linda's home in Healy, where they had a happy reunion with Linda's mother Rene and two aunts, before they returned home to Tucson, Arizona.

Jim and Iris spent a day in Denali Park and visited the Usibelli Mine, where Wayne is employed. Later, all four toured the Denali Highway and made a week-long trip to Valdez by motor home, seeing many points of interest and celebrating Wayne's birthday on July 5th. On the return trip, Wayne treated Iris and Jim to a salmon fishing experience on the Klutina River near Copper Center, where Iris landed a 34-pound king salmon.

Next they traveled the Glen Allen Highway to Anchorage to meet her daughter Monica Ashton, niece Cheryl Baker and Mary Jo Hendershot who flew in from Grayling on July 8. The group returned to Healy, stopping overnight at the Talkeetna Moose Dropping Festival where they all danced and sang to old-time music under the midnight sun. Iris and Jim flew home on July 11.

Wayne, "Trail Boss," and the four remaining women then joined Mary Jo's cousin and former Grayling resident, Tony Hoffman, now living in Healy, and his nephew Jeremy Hoffman, of Vancouver, Washington, for two weeks of exhausting fun, including rafting on the Nenana River and an excursion on four-wheelers through the mountains to a working gold mine owned by friends of Wayne and Tony's on the Tot-Tetlanika River, where they successfully panned gold.

Later in the week, Tony guided the group on a four-wheeler camping and fishing trip in the Alaska Range off the Denali Highway where they tented on the tundra at Tannis and Roosevelt lakes, catching grayling and lake trout within minutes of arrival.

The girls reluctantly flew home on July 23.

Da Yoopers, a musical comedy troupe, will be performing at Hanson Hills on August 13 at 7:30 p.m. The doors will open at 6 p.m. The group is being sponsored again by the Grayling Lioness Club.

MILITARY NEWS

FOX RUN GOLF NEWS

By Dick Spenny

The Fox Run Invitational Best Ball drew a field of 72 women on July 19. The handicapped best of two produced some excellent scores in each of the three flights. Third flight winners were Ann Kohn and Vi Radar who teamed to shoot a 56. Two teams tied at 61 for second place honors. They were the duos of Sheryl Sullivan and Mary Ann Murphy as well as Marian Rowlette and Ann Bayer.

Setting the pace in second flight was the team of Norene Perisi and Oteka Aude with a score of 57. Patty Bolser and Nancy Gohl were close behind at 59.

First flight honors went to Mary Alice McKindles and Carol Osling who carded the day's low round of 55. Treva McClanahan with Joann Powell posted a 57 as did the team of Sue Petersen and Mary Jones. Closest to the pin winners were Louise Spenny and Marilyn Coughlin.

The Fox Run men's league played through its 11th week with teams in two flights pulling away from the field. First fliers Tom Bailey and Jim Lederman kept their golfing express in gear by taking 13 points and posting a 45 to a 37.5 point lead over Jeff Nester and Bob Jansen. Jim Rutledge and Doc Oppy hold a 6.5 point lead in fourth flight with a 42.5 to 36 margin over Jim Watson and George Kehoe. Flight two shows a much closer race as Jerry DeWitt and Don Nester lead by only 1.5 over Bill Denemy and Rodger Wagner, 37 to 35.5. The team of Howard McColley and Doug Furstenau are in the hunt at 33. Flight three leaders Hans Lantzsch and Corky Gaylor enjoy a 5.5 point margin over Wally King and Ron Lewis.

Dan Carto's net 32 led the league. Teammate Bob Miller hung a net 33 on the board as they downed Rick Marshall and Terry Abernathy by a score of 14 to 7, despite Abernathy's matching 33. Miller's one over 37 paced the league for gross honors. Two others carded 38.

The Fox Run ladies Thursday league sees Ann Scott and Debi Neidrich pacing first flight with 41.5. Ann Scott fashioned a great net 28 on a gross 42 to set the pace for the night. Donna Furstenau trailed only by two on a net 30 and Joyce Routley was close with 31. Routley and Linda Mott lead the pack in second flight with 37 points in three weeks.

Jan Funkey and LaBeth Nester are the front runners in third flight at 38.5.

Young fishermen catch prizes in local contest

The Camp Grayling Conservation Club and North West Bass Club sponsored a children's fishing contest on Sunday, July 25.

Fourteen fish were marked and two were caught by Matt Marks of Grayling and Ricky Miles of Clifford. They were worth $25.

Gift certificates worth $25 were given to the child who caught the first fish in every age category up to 12 years old: Trisha Messerschmidt, 2 years; Katti Messerschmidt, 3 years; Matt Marks, 4 years; Tony Warren, 5 years; Skylynn Palmer, 6 years; Jenell Gregorich, 7 years; Michal Harahan of Ypsilanti, 8 years; Derrek Gregorich, 10 years; Tommy Smith of Flint, 11 years; Tiffany Smith of Flint, 12 years.

Prizes were also given out for second and third fish and largest fish caught in every age group. The smallest fish (3 1/2") was caught by 3 year old Kyle Halstead. The largest fish (17 1/2") was caught by 4 year old Matt Marks of Grayling.

Every child was given a prize whether they caught a fish or not.

Many volunteers and the following businesses helped make the event successful: Georgia Pacific, Ray's, Skip's Sport Shop, Ben Franklin Family Center and the Copper Keule.

DOODLES FROM THE TALL TIMBER

Wendell L. Hoover Park Interpreter, Hartwick Pines State Park

Recently two different people have asked me about stinging nettles or Urtica dioica, for those with an inclination toward Latin. If your bare skin comes into contact with this perennial, you will be interested only in relieving the intense itching produced by the stinging hairs on the stem.

The plant is native to Europe and Asia, but it now ranges from Newfoundland to Colorado and south to the Carolinas and Missouri. It is more or less common in rich moist soils, especially where it is shaded. The most concise description I could find was of a plant two to four feet tall, rather stout, with ovate heart shaped leaves with coarsely cut margins. The flower cluster is large, but individual flowers in the cluster are very small and green in color.

One of my sources list the mature plant as being poisonous because the stinging hairs cause dermatitis. Another of my books list the plant as being edible. It soon becomes apparent that timing is essential if you want to use it as a food since only during the spring are the young tender tops edible. Use it as a potherb mixed with other greens. It may be served with melted butter and a little vinegar, or a cream sauce may be used.

I'm certain there is little intention to use the plant as a food, but a need to remove its presence. As weeds the plants may be kept in control by cutting twice a year, grubbing with gloved hands, or salting.

On a historical note, the nettle was cultivated during World War I for making a good strong white linen, useful in manufacturing tents and clothing. The roots yield a yellow dye for those who use natural dyes on wool or other fibers.

Home town.

When you first think about it, your hometown is the town in which you live. But when you really think about it, your hometown is a lot more.

Hometown is the place where your dad first taught you to ride a bicycle. It's the five and dime where you begged mom for a piece of candy. It's the barber shop where you got your first haircut.

Hometown is where you and your friends walked in the 4th of July parade with the Cub Scouts or Brownies. It's those same streets you walked every day to and from school.

Hometown is where you cruised the same streets a thousand times before in hopes of finding something to do. It's working after school at the local burger joint to earn a little extra money for the essentials (dates, car, and food).

Hometown is what you take a good look at when you leave for college and the service. It's what you can remember every detail of while you're away.

Hometown is where you can always come home to.

You can keep your loved ones close to home with a *Student subscription for only $10.00 or an Out-of-County One Year Subscription for $16.00. *Student subscriptions are from Sept. thru May. Mail their Name and Address with your check or money order to:

"Chamber Update Newsletter"

Chamber Board election underway

The Chamber is in the process of electing four members to the Board of Directors. The board term is for three years. Each of the four board members who have just completed their term on the board have expressed interest to run for another three year term. The incumbents, board members that have just completed a three year term — but have accepted nomination for another three year term, are Donna Masker of Old Kent Bank (financial), R. J. Hannan representing Crawford AuSable School District (membership at large), Mike Creps of L&M CITGO Station (retail), and Mary Jo Conway representing Mercy Health Services North (service).

"I think that speaks well for the chamber that board members just completing a three year term are again willing to serve an additional three years," stated Chamber Director Deborah Allen. "It's a new chamber with big goals and proud accomplishments."

The board has been designed so that all segments of the business community have a representative on the board. The categories are financial, retail, manufacturing, legal and professional, G.A.V.C., recreational, and membership at large.

There are a total of 12 seats on the board, but not more than two representatives from each category are allowed.

Fourteen business and community leaders have accepted nomination on the ballot. Each chamber member business is entitled to a vote for the four individuals that they feel would best represent the interests of business in Crawford County.

All ballots will be tallied on Friday, August 13, and the new 1994 board members will be contacted to attend the board meeting on Wednesday, August 18. From the entire 1994 board of directors will be elected the 1994 board officers which will be announced at the Chamber Annual Dinner scheduled for Saturday, August 21, at the Camp Grayling Officers Club.

GAVC features:

IRISH VISITOR—John Trew, an independent writer (pictured with his wife and GAVC Director, Deb Allen), from northern Ireland, was sponsored by the Grayling Area Visitors Council during a recent visit to the Grayling area. Mr. Trew is compiling information for a publication that will feature northern Michigan as a ideal "American Holiday" (vacation) to European travelers.

Alef addresses MDOT commission

Mr. John Alef II, chairman of the M-72 "Lake To Lake" Association, addressed the Michigan Department of Transportation

Commission at a public meeting held in Traverse City this past Friday. The M-72 group feels that the future of many northern Michigan communities is directly related to transportation projects in or near their county.

This is why the M-72 "Lake To Lake" Association Committee is taking a proactive approach, and is gaining support in their efforts to encourage the completion of an improved highway system along the existing M-72 corridor, from Lake Michigan to Lake Huron.

The M-72 "Lake To Lake" Association was formed earlier this year with input from the respective county commissions, chambers of commerce, county road commissions and Michigan Department of Transportation representatives. To date, there are twenty-nine members in the Association with each of the six counties (Alcona to Leelanau County) represented.

Athena Award nomination

The Chamber is now accepting nominations for the prestigious "Athena Award." The award is sponsored by Scheer Motors of Grayling and is presented to women who meet the following criteria:

1. Unselfishly demonstrate support of the goals of professional women or provide assistance on their behalf.

2. Provide valuable service to their business of profession and to the community.

3. Exhibits initiative to enhance the efficacy of profession and the improvement of the community.

4. Demonstrates excellence in business or profession.

Nominations can be submitted by either stopping in or calling the chamber office.

Nominations are being accepted until Friday, August 13.

Advertising discount offered to members

The Chamber is again working with Harbor House Publishing to print the Chamber's Membership Directory and Community Guide. As in the past, 3,000 directories will be printed highlighting Chamber member businesses and their products.

Members that pay their 1994 investment prior to Sunday, August 15, 1993, may qualify to receive a 15% discount on their advertisement in this year's publication. For information on the directory or advertising please call Heidi at the Chamber office, 348-2921.

The Silver Lining Award

The Chamber doesn't intend on making a habit of giving "Beautification Awards" to businesses who put up parking lots; however, the Knights of Columbus Hall is being commended on its recent landscaping efforts.

The KofC members have taken a highly visible area on the I-75 Business Loop, that in the past has been considered an eye sore by many, and has made it into a viable business area with a beautiful drive-under canopy, with flowers, and stairs to access the new parking area.

It is not pleasant to keep on a subject, but it seems that it is timely to consider again the proposed cross-country highway from Traverse City to Harrisville via Benzie County, Traverse City, Kalkaska, Grayling, Mio and Harrisville, all county seats. Edwin Morfit, Clarence Morfit, Duard Willet and Evie Rosenstand passed their second class tests while at scout camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Herrick entertained the former's sister, Mrs. Mac Wodworth of Detroit; Albert Sly and family of Coldwater, Misses Oda and Lonella Black of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sly and Mrs. Fannie Sly of Vanderbilt, the later part of the week.

The Bible Speaks

From The
Calvary Baptist Church

Answer to the New Age Bibles #10

Dr. D. A. Waite, Th.D., Ph.D., in his book Defending The King James Bible (A four-fold Superiority: Texts, Translators, Technique, and Theology. God's Word Kept Intact in English.); he defends the originality and infallible authority of the Hebrew text underlying our authorized King James Bible.

Who had the authority to preserve the Old Testament scriptures? "The Jews Were named by God to Be the Guardians of the Old Testament." Read it for yourself in the Bible: "What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit [is there] of circumcision? Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God." (Romans 3:1, 2). So Dr. Waite says the Received Hebrew Text underlying our KJV is superior because, "First, it was accumulated by the Jews, and secondly, it was authorized by Jesus."

Hebrew scribes followed the strictest methods in copying scriptures. Every word and letter was counted with strict rules governing form, spacing, and errors. "One mistake on a sheet condemned the sheet; if three mistakes were found on any page, the entire manuscript was condemned."

The Old Testament of the authorized King James Bible is based upon the Jewish Ben Chayyim Masoretic Text of 1524-25. "It was called the Second Great Rabbinic Bible. This became the standard Masoretic text for the next 400 years." "The word, 'Masoretic,' is from the Hebrew masar ('to hand down'). It means to hand down from person to person. The Masoretes were 'traditionalists' who guarded the Old Testament Hebrew text." (We saw last week that our Greek N.T. was preserved by "traditionalists.")

In answering Satan, Jesus Christ authorized every word of the Old Testament He held in his hands as trustworthy. "But he answered and said, 'It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.'" (Matthew 4:4). As Dr. Waite says of Jesus concerning Luke 24:44: "He put

His hand on the entire Masoretic Hebrew Old Testament text that existed then and AUTHORIZED it."

There is not a single instance where Jesus Christ attempted to correct even one letter or word in the Hebrew text. This text had been preserved for 1,500 years by the Jews from Moses to Jesus Christ.

Last week we studied the preservation of the Greek text of the New Testament. This week, we are assured of which Hebrew text of the Old Testament God would have us believe. New Age Bibles do not follow the Jewish Ben Chayyim Masoretic Text.

Question: My son will begin cutting the grass this summer for the first time. I'm a little apprehensive about it. When should children be considered old enough to mow lawns?

Answer: Injuries from lawn mowers are one of the many injuries seen in hospital emergency rooms in the summer time, along with firework mishaps, falls, animal bites, near drownings, car, bike, ATV injuries and gunshot wounds. That's why it's important to know ways to reduce the frequency of these injuries and how to keep them from occurring at all.

According to Children's Hospital of Michigan, more than 4,700 children under age 15 are injured in mower-related accidents annually. Most of these accidents carry grave consequences and the extent of injury can be severe.

Here are a few helpful suggestions to avoid an injury in your household:

- Don't permit a young child to operate a lawn mower. Some experts in child safety recommend a youngster be at least 12 before operating a walk-behind mower and at least 14 before using a riding mower.

- Make sure your riding mower has a safety feature that stops the blades from spinning when the operator gets off the seat. Never override safety features.

- Instruct your son to wear sturdy shoes and preferably safety glasses for protection against flying sharp objects.

- Before cutting, pick up rocks or other debris that might get in the way and be thrown back up.

• Teach children not to reach towards blades under any circumstances or under machine to unclog grass.

• Caution your son not to have younger children in the yard while he is cutting and to never give children rides on the mower. Frequently, children fall off and under the blades.

• Yards with a steep slope may be too difficult for your son to cut without the danger of a riding mower rolling over.

• Be available in case of trouble. Make sure the machine is running properly and in good repair. Does your son know what to do if the machine needs refueling, another potentially dangerous situation? Engine should be off and cooled down first.

• Repeat all instructions and supervise closely the first few attempts at lawn mowing. Gradually, you will feel more at ease with your son's new found expertise.

VOLUME

VS. VALUE

The story surfaces often in the business world. Two brothers entered the watermelon business. They bought a truck and loaded it with watermelons. They paid $1.00 each for the melons, drove into the city, and sold the melons for $1.00 each.

Business was booming, but they finally discovered they were making no profit. They had a meeting and decided the solution to their profit problem was to buy a bigger truck!

They were guided more by passion for the product than wisdom of profit. Often the passion to produce - to succeed at whatever cost - blinds us to the reality that life is not measured by VOLUME but by VALUE; that profit in life cannot be measured by what is gained, but by what is paid and what is lost in the process.

Jesus said it centuries ago: "What does it profit a man if he should gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Matt 16:26). He indicated that volume is not a criterion for success. Even the volume of gaining the whole world is too small a gain to pay one's soul for.

Help Center celebrates first year of service

The Crawford County Community Christian Help Center, located at 306 North James Street, will celebrate its first anniversary on August 5.

The center is the result of several years of planning by the AuSable Ministerial Association and a task force. It is run by a coordinator and a board of directors representing the churches and agencies of Crawford County.

It is open 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, serving Crawford County with a food pantry and referrals to other agencies.

From August 5, 1992, to August 5, 1993, it had 559 clients, worked 1,587 volunteer hours, was open 596 hours and provided 14,589 meals.

"The generosity of this community is a wonderful thing," said Gerry Schroeder, coordinator.

The center has ongoing needs for rice, canned peanut butter, cereal, toilet paper, small fruit, pancake mix and green slips.

Only one month remains to visit Historical Museum

Have you visited the Crawford County Historical Museum at the depot this summer? We've heard so many Grayling people say, "I intend to go visit and I just never seem to get to it!"

Well, folks, you only have a month left to do it so take a couple of hours. Take your guests there if you don't know what to do to entertain them or if your family or guests are interested in history.

One of the latest Grayling memorabilia to be marked is the huge rock between the depot and the military building. It is the one that stood in the city park on the south side of the river above the highway dam since 1939 when it was dedicated in honor of the veterans of all wars. There was a plaque on it that came up missing, was returned and now has disappeared again. However, a new one has been made for it for the museum. This rock was the starting point for Memorial Day parades and was where the flowers were thrown into the river in honor of all fallen comrades.

Newcomers meet August 9

Newcomers in Grayling and Crawford County are invited to the next meeting of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers to be held Monday, August 9th, at the Iron Gate Restaurant. The meeting will begin with dinner at 6 p.m. and the program will be presented by Brooke Reidelberger. She and her husband, Francis, produce and present travelogues, and Brooke will be sharing some of their experiences.

The June meeting was held at the Holiday Inn in Grayling with dinner and a time of fellowship. Janet Young presented a humorous program to the group in July about her experiences in obtaining and adapting to her new faithful seeing eye dog, Harriet.

If you are a newcomer to Crawford County, call Betty Mansfield (348-8562) or Shirley Carpenter (348-5362) regarding the Welcome Wagon Newcomers' Meetings or a Welcome Wagon visit.

B.L.T.I.A. meets on August 7

Hobby Club Kirtland schedules plans sale registration Aug. 18-19 August 14

The Frederic Hobby Club met Monday, July 26, to make final plans for its bake sale and flea market that will be held August 14 at the clubhouse. Connie Rozanski and Eleanor White were co-hostesses and Helma Post was the winner of the door prize.

Registration for the fall semester at Kirtland Community College will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, August 18 and 19, from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Students are required to show two proofs of residency when registering. These include a voter's registration card, driver's license, Secretary of State I.D. Card, rent receipt (with address on it) or tax receipt.

Tuition for fall will be assessed at $42 per credit hour for in-district students and $56.50 for out-of-district students. ASSET placement testing is required of all new students and may be completed during registration.

For further information, contact Kirtland's Admissions office at 517-275-5121.

Sheriff Lovely attends training course

Crawford County Sheriff David G. Lovely recently completed the National Sheriffs' Institute (NSI) Executive Development Program, conducted at the National Institute of Corrections Center in Longmont, Colorado.

The NSI program, sponsored by the National Sheriffs' Educational Foundation, now in its twentieth year, was developed by the School of Public Administration of the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, to enhance the management capabilities of the sheriff.

The two-week program is currently funded by the Congress through an appropriation to the National Institute of Corrections which covers the expense of transportation, training, lodging and meals for the sheriffs who attend.

"What a beautiful state to visit," Sheriff Lovely said. "The weather was warm, the flowers and trees were in full bloom, and the western scenery of snow-covered mountains was breathtaking." Longmont, located approximately 30 minutes north of Denver, is mostly flat farmland.

"The whole program, from aesthetic value to informational value, is unmeasurable," said Lovely. "The NSA used top notch instructors in areas of management, decision making, leadership, interpersonal communications, team building, managing cultural diversity, media relations, managing changes and legal issues of hiring, firing, and sexual harassment. During the course of the class, new friendships were born and a network established between other states and sheriffs just as we do here in Michigan. I viewed the program as very beneficial for a new sheriff."
